Foreword

The year 2020-21 has been overwhelming, considering the world's biggest pandemic disrupted life and the entire planet came to a standstill. With no references on how to deal with the situation the team at NIDMP responded immediately in the most responsive manner and ensured the continuity of learning with minimum loss.

Though people found it challenging to balance hybrid work with the demands of their personal lives, however, the tenacity of our students and the dedication, persistence, and wholehearted support of the staff to keep things going, have greatly impressed me. I express my deepest gratitude and appreciation. Discipline teams put together student kits and recalibrated their teaching assignments around these kits. It ensured that all students had access to the same material and their learning continued uninterruptedly.

The primary goal of NIDMP was to keep the students motivated and interested to learn while also highlighting the significant values of our practical learning, particularly considering the difficult economic climate. A sincere and heartfelt gratitude to our faculties who sacrificed their personal lives and innovated on daily basis to ensure continual motivation and student engagement.

The second challenge was to keep the campus safe and protected from the impact of the coronavirus, I feel extremely delighted to share that the small and spirited team at NIDMP ensured the safety of the campus and we had no cases of infection.

To bridge the connection with industry, the institute took membership in all the important industry associations, such as the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII), and the Federation of Madhya Pradesh Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FMPCCI).

NIDMP also signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) for academic collaboration with the School of Planning and Architecture, Bhopal (SPAB). The partnership aims to foster collaborative academic and research activities along with exchange visits of faculty, technical staff, and students. It shall also facilitate joint industrial projects, publications, the conduct of special short-term joint academic programs, and the use of each other's facilities.

With extreme care and following COVID protocols institute invited and hosted many dignitaries to ensure the institute's connection with society, state government, academia, and industries.

Institute strengthened its outreach portfolio by conducting a residential comprehensive module to give basic training in visual merchandising to Self-Help Groups (SHGs) sponsored by NABARD in building visual sensitivity and spatial understanding for enhanced visual merchandising by maintaining all social distancing protocols.

Recognizing that NID MP faculty organized and took part in different webinars, conferences, symposia, etc. to stay informed about the most recent trends in academia, research, and industry is heartening and shows their commitment.

Being the largest operational NID campus amongst all NIDs and its location on a rocky bed offered numerous challenges since its inception. The efforts to make the campus as green as possible were accelerated during the pandemic and many dignitaries were invited in planting a tree. The team worked tirelessly to process the infrastructural requirements and kept improving the campus infrastructure.

The biggest institutional event, Madhya Pradesh Design Utsav (MPDU) which also went online with a galaxy of speakers and stellar performances, was a well-coordinated event by the team. The Poster of MPDU 2020 was unveiled by Prof. Siva Umopathy, Director, IISER, Bhopal, and Prof. N Sridharan, Director, SPA.

Stakeholders now feel more connected to the community owing to the challenges thrown by the covid year. As an ambitious organization, we recognize that our partnerships are powerful and broad, which has benefited our accomplishments. Although the higher education industry is complicated and difficult, it is crucial that we advance quickly while ensuring that the services we offer to our students and the results they accomplish are of the highest calibre. Our ability to continue to succeed depends on the dedication of our students, faculty, and staff as well as the desire of our partners and stakeholders to collaborate with us.

Through our teaching and learning, stakeholder engagement, and ability to deliver excellence as a new institute, we have shown our agility, responsiveness, and capacity to maintain our ambitious plans and strategic objectives on track despite the numerous difficult external factors pressing down on us.

This year's annual report serves as a self-explanatory testimony of the NIDMP team's dedication to its given mandate. It shows that the team have provided quality services to all stakeholders of the institute, despite the challenges posed by the pandemic, and they have pledged to continue doing so in the future with the help of the Indian government.

4. ACADEMIC PROGRAMMES

The institute offers three bachelor's degree disciplines: Bachelor of Design (Industrial Design), Bachelor of Design (Communication Design) and Bachelor of Design (Textile & Apparel Design). All the disciplines have common foundation programme in the first year.

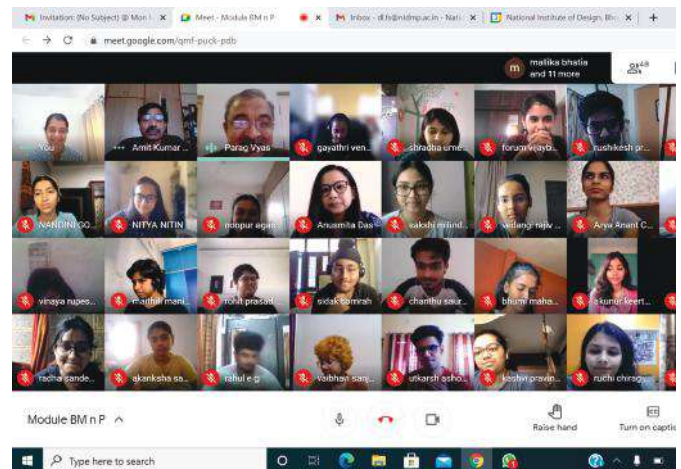

4.1 Foundation Studies (UG Programmes)

Common Foundation (CF) studies (1st year) provides the basic understanding about the elements of art and design that will enable the students to develop professional practices in the visual and liberal arts in a meaningful manner. The Foundation Programme is geared to assist in developing values, attitudes, sensorial skills and aesthetic sensitivity. necessary for specialisation in design. It introduces students to the fundamentals of design and orients students to thinking of design as a creative problem solving process. It helps develop an evolved 'design' perception and attitude, understanding of multidisciplinary nature of design and relationship of design with environment, culture, human senses and emotions. Basic design 'studio' courses are augmented by introductory studies in Science and Liberal Arts, to develop world view and understanding of Indian milieu. It helps enrich conceptual thinking, insight for design concerns; design processes and prepares one to start thinking about eventual solutions. It aspires to create an awareness of the changing environment by constantly relating the students' learning to real life situations. It provides the necessary direction, stimuli, facilities and experience to foster creativity and thereby help each individual to discover their own identity and potential. The Foundation Programme is the basis on which the remaining design curriculum is built.

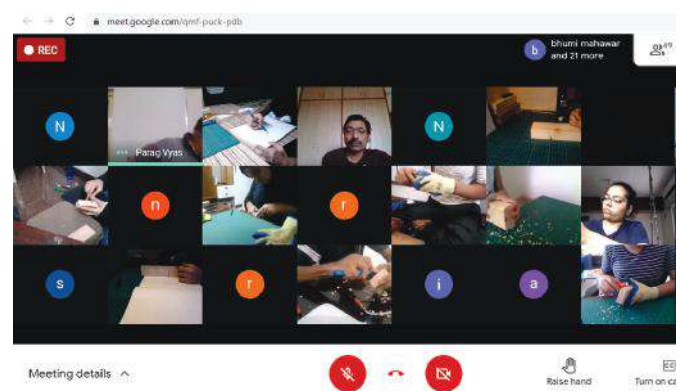

Highlights of the Foundation Studies during the year were as under:

Students were sent home on 18th March 2020 as the nation was hit by COVID 19 Pandemic.

5.5 Human Resource Development activities for faculty and staff and initiatives taken during outbreak of COVID-19

Outbreak of COVID-19 and nationwide lockdown was a testing phase for the Institute. However, faculty and staff of the institute worked on the principle that learning never stops. It was soon realized that the pandemic is not going to end soon and teaching strategies will have to be revamped according to the new context. A series of meetings were conducted with the entire institute community including students to form a positive attitude towards online learning. The challenges for students initially included access to computers at home, stable Internet connection of adequate bandwidth, availability of standardized equipment/ raw material for practical sessions, submission of assignments and their evaluation etc. Faculties took some time to get accustomed to delivering online courses, as it had previously never been done in the short history of the institute. NID MP soon acquired a Learning Management System for teaching learning activities including course delivery, assessments, sharing of resources, discussions with students, submission of assignments etc. The learning through LMS was complemented by using Microsoft Teams/ Google Meet type of software.

During the lockdown period, NID MP took all precautions to ensure that the institute community remains safe amidst the spread of infection. A strict policy of no entry/ exit from the campus premises was followed when the infection was at its peak. Then institute management worked out a bare minimum requirement of security, housekeeping, horticulture and nursing staff and asked them to stay on campus so that contact with people outside the main gate could be minimized. Health of all inmates was monitored regularly, and consultation was taken from the institute's medical officer on phone, whenever required. A team was made to monitor the administrative requirements related to the institute community staying on campus, and they tirelessly worked throughout the lockdown phase, as also during the process of returning to normalcy. Groceries, vegetables and other provisions were centrally ordered from nearby suppliers, and the items were well sanitized before use.

Later, when the institute started allowing employees and visitors to come to the campus, the access was controlled and body temperature of all entrants was recorded at the main gate. Hand sanitization machines were placed at the main gate and various other places on campus, including the administrative and academic blocks. The institute constituted a COVID-19 monitoring committee to ensure that the guidelines issued by the Government of India and the State Government were meticulously followed. SOP on preventive measures to contain spread of COVID-19 in offices was issued to the employees. After reopening of offices, NID MP among other activities also conducted the recruitment processes for some of the posts, while observing all COVID-19 related guidelines.

At the time of reopening the institute for physical learning in March 2021, a comprehensive SOP was issued to the students. They were asked to get an RT PCR test carried out before the reporting to the campus. The students were kept under 14 days quarantine in hostels before commencement of classroom activities.

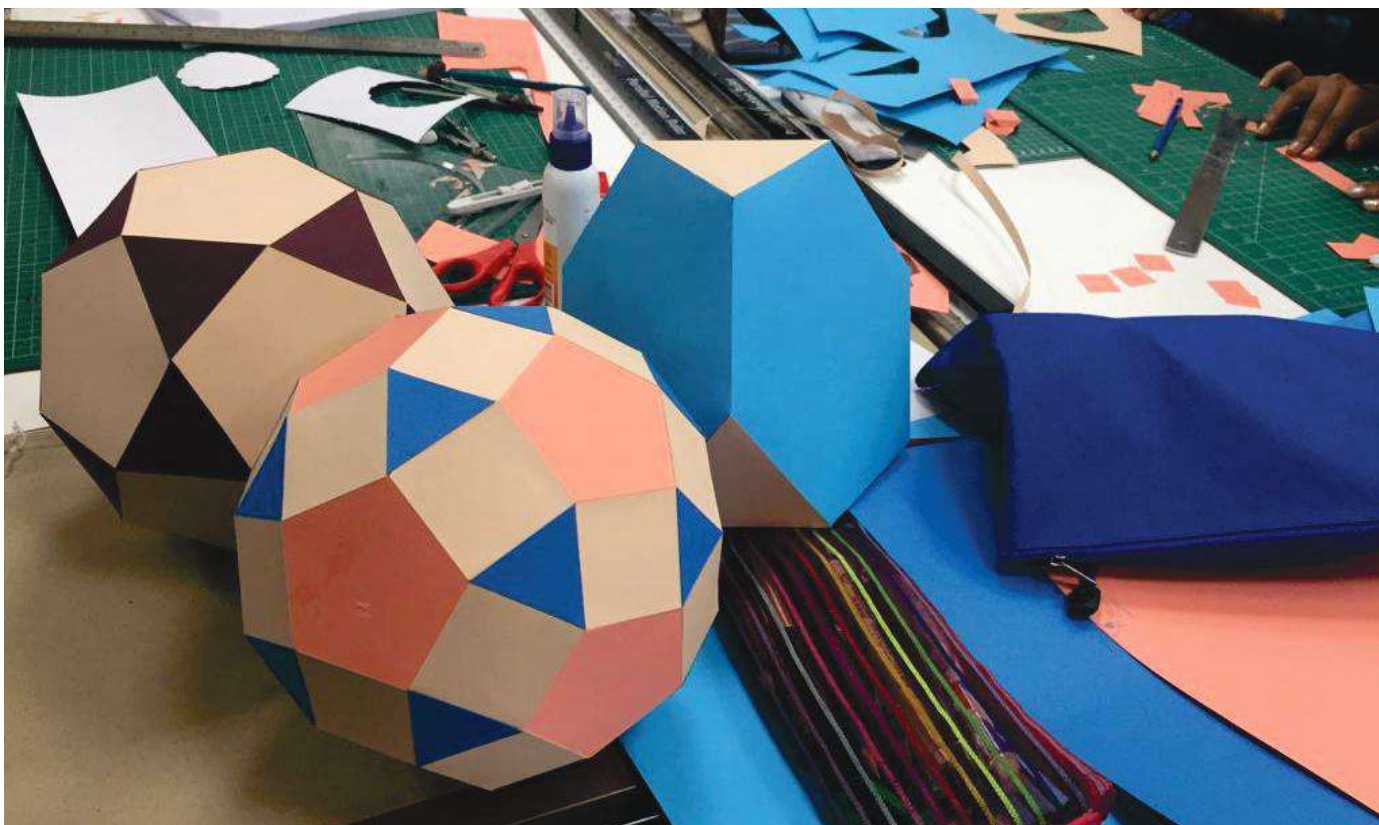

Even during the lockdown period, apart from conducting the online classes, NID MP faculty organised and participated in webinars, conferences, symposia etc. in an effort to keep oneself/ others updated about the recent trends in academia, research and industry. Similarly, technical and administrative staff members participated in a variety of trainings and seminars.

A. BALANCE SHEETA.1 Fixed Assets: ₹1,10,20,73,912*Capital Work in Progress (Schedule – 6): ₹99,94,67,875

The above includes ₹99.94 crore being cost of construction of First phase of Infrastructure development at NID Madhya Pradesh under which 10 units were constructed. The Institute's Bhopal campus was virtually inaugurated on 22.02.2019 and partially completed facilities have already been put into use. The Institute has not yet capitalized the same and kept the expenditure of ₹99.94 crore under Capital Work in Progress (CWIP). Non-capitalization of expenditure has resulted in overstatement of CWIP and understatement of Fixed Assets (Buildings) by ₹99.94 crore.

Non-capitalization of expenditure also resulted in non-charging of depreciation and consequently resulted in understatement of Depreciation Fund by ₹4.99 crore (at the rate of 2.5%) for the two years i.e. 2019-20 and 2020-21 and overstatement of Capital Fund to the same extent.

B. Grants-in-Aid
