1. Graduation Project Initiation

1.1 Overview

(i) The culmination of the students' academic tenure at the National Institute of Design, Madhya Pradesh, is marked by the submission of a graduation project, which is a substantial investigation in the field of design on a topic closely allied to their discipline of study. The graduation project is meant to offer the outcome of a full-scale professional design assignment with both application and implementation potential. Introduced with an aim to conform to the root philosophy of NID MP's pedagogy of 'learning by doing', this graduation project is every student's moment to shine in the real-world arena of client service.

(ii) The project orients the students to the needs and demands of the industry. It offers the students an opportunity to demonstrate his/her ability to provide professional services to clients as an independent design professional. It also helps them to make an informed decision about which career path they would like to follow upon graduating. A higher degree of synthesis and self-reflection/ evaluation/ critique is expected from a B. Des. student, along with the ability to bridge research and practice effectively. The project must be done with academic rigor incorporating systematic inquiry and informed design decisions. The phrase 'systematic inquiry' implies the presence of a structure and method by which the student must carry out his/her project.

(iii) The graduation project reflects the student's ability to:

(a) Apply his/her learning to current practices in the process of creating new forms of products, processes, services, and systems.

(b) Analyze and refine his/her ideas in an iterative manner based on critique. सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त

(c) Evaluate/reflect upon the creative processes he/she has followed.

Information given under RTI Act

(iv) The initial search for an appropriate topic for the graduation project may commence at the beginning of the 7th semester of the students' bachelor's program at NID MP. Students can select their projects through personal contacts, faculty contacts, contacts shared by the Placement Cell, or through opportunities available with the Global Outreach Cell (GOC). The Global Outreach Cell (GOC) announces the availability of graduation projects from time to time.

(v) Students can undertake a graduation project under various types of clients (section 1.2). The graduation project comprises a comprehensive project based on a predetermined design brief and the scope of work. Students are expected to write a professional design proposal that explains the overview of the project, process, scope, and budget of the project.

(vi) For successful completion of graduation projects as per the academic standards of NID MP, the institute provides mentorship to each student (section 1.5). Each student is assigned a guide, who is a faculty member of NID MP. During the project, the student is expected to present work in progress to the guide and get time-to-time feedback. Upon successful completion of the project, a comprehensive document of the project & its outcome is submitted as prescribed by NID MP (section 2). The student's performance on the project is critically evaluated by a jury comprising NID MP faculty members and external experts (section 3), for the award of the NID MP's Professional Education Degree to the student.

Refer to appendix 4.1 to understand the entire timeline related to the graduation project.

1.2 Avenues for the Graduation Project

Students can pursue graduation projects under various types of clients both in India and abroad and under the self-sponsored category as stated in Para 1.2.4.

1.2.1 Client Sponsored Project outside NID MP

Students may undertake a project with any organization in India. 'Organization' here means a public sector organization; any privately-owned or managed firm/ studio/ company; government body or an NGO, or a sponsored professional project under the mentorship of a Professor/ Faculty of a reputed design university, college, or institute. Students can take up one client-sponsored project in core categories such as design for industry, social sector, development, and innovation.

1.2.2 Client Sponsored Project within NID MP

Global Outreach Cell (GOC) of NID MP is an apex body under which design consultancy is offered by NID MP, to client organizations from industry, government, NGO, and development sectors, by the experienced faculty members of the institute. The projects under GOC are sponsored by a client. The institute's Global Outreach Cell may sponsor graduation project/s under the mentorship of the faculty who is the project coordinator. The requirement of students on such projects and the project brief will be shared by GOC with the students throughout the year. The request received from the interested students will be examined by the committee comprising AC GOC and the project guide in consultation with the client.

1.2.3 Sponsored Project Abroad

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त
Information given under RTI Act

(i) The students may explore the possibility of doing a graduation project in a foreign university/institution if NID MP signs a 'Memorandum of Understanding (MOU)' with it. They may also approach a foreign university/institution/private/public-owned organizations/ entities on their own to get a project.

If a student decides to do a graduation project abroad, his/her academic record forms the first basis in deciding whether he/she can be permitted to do so. When such an offer comes to any student, his/her respective guide and discipline lead will make a recommendation based on said criteria to the Activity Chairperson (E&T), who is authorized to make the final decision to permit the student to work on a sponsored project abroad.

1.2.4 Self-Sponsored Project

The students also have the option of undertaking self-initiated projects on a topic of their interest.

1.2.5 Any Other

The students may explore any other learning opportunity beyond the above four provisions that fulfill the learning objectives of the graduation project as stated in section 1.1, such students may approach the Activity Chairperson Education and Training through discipline leads.

1.3. Graduation Project Duration

The graduation project is expected to be 6 months long. The 6-month duration includes project work and its documentation in the writing format prescribed by NID MP as mentioned in Section 2. Complete documentation of the project methodology, processes, and outcomes will be carried out by the student during this period of the project.

The project time spent with the organization is the actual time that will be mentioned in the work experience certificate by the employer (Refer Section 2.1.2). The project time may or may not include documentation time. Anything between 4 to 6 months is acceptable as the duration on the certificate. If the student spends 4 to 5 months with the organization as project time, then he/ she must utilize the remaining time for project documentation writing either on or off campus. If the student spends 6 months' time with the organization, he/she shall be required to complete the documentation within that time at the workplace of the organization.

1.4 Selection & Scope of the Graduation Project

(i) Selection of an appropriate topic for the project is of primary importance. Students might wish to explore a subject, theme, or area of study that featured strongly in their earlier works in greater depth. The students might also wish to pursue a topic of personal interest that has to date not been featured in any of their works at NID MP. Alternatively, they might choose their projects based on the direction they wish to steer their career towards. It is essential for students to have a keen interest in the topic they wish to pursue, as they will need to sustain their interest and motivation throughout the course of study. The appropriateness of the project should be discussed with the student's guide Discipline Coordinator.

(ii) In a sponsored project by the client as mentioned in sections 1.2.1, 1.2.2, 1.2.3, it is the sponsor who often determines the initial design brief and the expectations/scope of work for the project. In some cases, the selection of the project is done in consultation with the student. The scope of the project should include design research and development (R & D) or only design development. The scope of work should be worthy of a student's 6-month engagement with the sponsor's organization.

(iii) In the case of a self-sponsored project (1.2.4), a student has the autonomy to select the project. However, it should be discussed with the student's guide. The initial search for an appropriate topic for the graduation project may commence at the beginning of the pre-final semester of the student's bachelor's program at NID MP.

1.5 Mentorship

(i) Having a guide on a graduation project is mandatory. The guide for the graduation project should be a faculty member of NID MP. Guides can be of two types: the main guide and a co-guide. Students can choose both main and co-guide from any discipline including foundation studies based on subject expertise, or area of specialization of the faculty (largely determined through courses taught and research or practice pursued). Having a Co-guide is optional, he/ she may be inducted on the project in consultation with the main guide. Each faculty member of the institute may guide max up to 7 students as the main guide and additional max up to 5 students as co-guide. Both the main guide and co-guide shall have the choice to agree to mentor the student or decline. Discipline leads must ensure that all students of the discipline have at least a main guide.

(ii) Students should have regular online meetings reporting the progress of the project to the main guide and the co-guide to share and discuss the progress of the work done, seek critique from the guide, redefine the design brief as required, and consider new directions for design development. A minimum of two visits should be made by the student to the institute to show the progress of the project to the main guide and or co- guide. Guide meetings should be documented by the students and regularly shared with the guide in case of meetings both in offline/ online scenarios. The guide can also meet the client online/offline during the graduation project and conduct a mid-project review.

(iii) If a student pursues his/her graduation project overseas as mentioned in section 1.2.3, she/he will have to choose a subject expert in the respective country in addition to a faculty guide from NID MP. This external advisor has to be endorsed by the student's faculty guide, and the Activity Chairperson (Education & Training). If the student is unable to visit the guide in NID MP due to some unavoidable circumstances, in such cases, a minimum of two physical visits to the subject expert in the respective country is mandatory in consultation with the main guide of NID MP.

(iv) The Indian or foreign sponsor organization will bear the expenses of the student travel for guide visits stated in section 1.9. If the project requires a physical visit of the guide to the student's organization, in such a situation, that visit will be sponsored by the Indian/foreign sponsor organization as stated in section 1.9.

1.5.1 Responsibilities of Main Guide and Co-Guide

(i) Co-guide should be opted by the student in discussion with the main guide. Co-guide should be opted before the registration process.

(ii) Project proposal should be approved by the main guide.

(iii) If the project requires, the main guide/co-guide may visit the student's organization during the graduation project duration to give feedback or address any disputes related to the student project or any other essential work related to the project.

(iv) Both main and co-guide should seek regular updates on the progress of the project and give regular feedback to the students.

(v) Both main and co-guide should guide students during the writing phase of the graduation project document.

(vi) All the official documents related to academic work will be signed by the main guide.

1.6 Registration

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त
Information given under RTI Act

(i) All students, whether client sponsored or self-sponsored have to complete the registration process for the graduation project with the Academic Office, by filling out an online registration form. In case of client sponsored project (as stated in section 1.2.1, 1.2.2., 1.2.3), students need the following for the completion of the registration process :

(a) Written confirmation from guide and/or co-guide

(b) Written confirmation in the form of an email and offer letter from the Client.

(c) Terms and conditions if any like Non-Disclosure Agreement etc. (refer section 2.1.7 (viii))

(d) Project Proposal (refer section 1.7)

(ii) In the case of the self-sponsored category, students only need to submit written confirmation from guide and co-guide and tentative project proposal, written in consultation with the guide and co-guide.

(iii) The registration process begins immediately once the students have cleared the 7th semester B. Des.

juries (kindly refer to credit evaluation policy for eligibility to register for the graduation project). However, students are allowed to proceed with doing the provisional registration of the graduation project as per the timelines stated in appendix 4.1.

(iv) Students may commence their projects only after clearing the 7th semester jury. After declaration of the results, the academic office will issue the confirmation list of eligible students for the graduation project. It is important to note that the 6-month duration of the graduation project begins from the closing date of the registration process for all students. The Discipline Coordinator must ensure that the student has successfully passed all courses prior to registration of the project.

1.7 Project Proposal

(i) Every graduation project needs to begin with a project/research plan. This plan needs to be articulated in the form of a written proposal that is formulated by the student in consultation with the client and his/her faculty guide at the Institute. The project proposal provides an outline of the project, states the aim and objectives, defines the scope of work and methodology, and expected outcome. The project proposal should be written in a minimum of 1200 words to a maximum of 2400 words. The project proposal is an important document and must be well-written and coherently structured. Before the student can set out on his/her project, he/she needs to submit the proposal at the time of graduation project registration.

(ii) The final graduation project proposal comprises the following structure:

(a) Design Brief/ Problem Setting/Research Question: Identifying the problems/challenges of a given situation in context and formulating an appropriate research question that can lend a proper direction to the project. In a sponsored project, it is the sponsor who often determines the initial design brief and the expectations/scope of work for the project. In some cases, this is done in consultation with the student.

(b) Aim & Objectives: The strategies/plans/steps to be followed by the student to attain the aims he/she set down to achieve at the outset of the graduation project.

(c) Scope of the Project: Listing the work that is expected from the student to accomplish in the given period of project duration.

(d) Methodology: The approaches and methods the student plans to employ to answer the research/ design objectives/question.

(e) Timeline: This will give an idea about how the graduation project will be structured over the six-month period, that is, the sequence of various stages of the project and the approximate time required to complete said stages.

(f) Deliverables: This refers to what the student and client envisions as the emerging outcome/s of the project in the form of tangible deliverables.

1.8 Stipend

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त
Information given under RTI Act

(i) The standard, financial modus operandi for the graduation project is

a) A project sponsored by an organization b) A self-sponsored project.

(a) A sponsored project implies that the students are paid, that is, they receive a stipend for rendering their services to a firm/organization. The stipend that a company offers to a student may vary depending on the company, its policies, its location, and other contextual factors that have a bearing on its finances. Students should be aware that a stipend relates to the funds made available for the specific purpose and time of the project alone and must not be confused with a 'salary'. The stipend covers their basic sustenance costs

(food, accommodation, and transport) for the duration of the project. To minimize variance across stipends offered by different organizations, the Institute recommends these guidelines are also sent to the sponsor and are revised periodically.

(b) The current norm for stipend offered to final year degree students sponsored by a client outside NID MP (1.2.1) or within NID MP (1.2.2), is a minimum of Rs 25,000 per month, for a maximum of 6 months. The maximum stipend would be as negotiated between the student and the organization, applicable also in the case of sponsored projects abroad. All the expenses related to the project will be borne by the funding agency as stated in section 1.9. In the case of a self-sponsored project (1.2.4), a student does not receive any financial support in the form of a stipend and all the project-related expenses shall be borne by the student.

1.9 Project Funding

(i) If the project is sponsored by a client as stated in sections 1.2.1, 1.2.2, 1.2.3, the sponsor is expected to bear the following expenses:

(a) Manufacturing cost (in or outside NID MP)

(b) Infrastructure related cost (in or outside NID MP) सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त

(c) Service cost (e.g., outsourcing services, etc.) Information given under RTI Act

(d) Travel Cost

i. Local or intercity travel by the student during the graduation project for project work.

ii. Cost of travel for a minimum two guide visits by the student. The sponsor as per the organizational norms for the student category will pay for the cost of the travel undertaken by the student.

iii. Cost of one round trip by air and local hospitality for the main/ co-guide during his/her visit to the sponsors as per NID MP norms.

iv. Lodging cost, applicable if the student visits NID MP for a guided visit or travels to some other city for project work.

(e) Cost of one final graduation project document for the sponsor. The student shall submit a copy of the document to the sponsor.

(f) Contingencies (10% on points (a) to (e) above)

(g) Stipend for six months.

(h) Contribution to NID MP by the Sponsor for academic supervision and research shall be Rs 5,000/- (exclusive of the GST) to be paid by Demand Draft in favor of 'National Institute of Design Madhya Pradesh' towards academic supervision, the same is applicable for the sponsors from SAARC nations. For sponsors from all other countries, the amount is 600 USD. Contribution to NID MP is payable within one month from the date of commencement of the project. Contribution to NID MP by the sponsor for academic supervision is not applicable in case the graduation project is funded by the client of NIDMP.

(i) Total cost (mention here the sum of individual costs specified in points (a) to (h) above) - Rs.

(ii) In case the project is self-sponsored by the student as mentioned in section 1.2.4 and the student is using NID MP infrastructure to execute the project, then the student should bear the cost of consumable materials. The student shall be allowed to use the infrastructure at the Institute, provided his work does not affect the organized teaching- learning activities.

(iii) Hostel charges shall be applicable to all students as per no. of days the hostel room is occupied by the student. Mess charges will be directly paid by the student to the mess contractor.

(iv) In case the graduation project is funded by a client of NID MP as mentioned in 1.2.2, then the project funding including stipend should be routed by the project coordinator through Global Outreach Cell.

1.10 Use of Resources at NID MP

(i) In case the student is doing a sponsored project as stated in section 1.2.1, 1.2.2, 1.2.3; such students are expected to do two guide visits to NID MP. During their visit to the institute, they can avail themselves of the academic infrastructure such as IT, classroom, and library facilities at the Institute during their consultation visits with their guide(s) and during the final documentation phase of their graduation project. Such students may also stay in the NID MP hostel for the desired number of days, if the rooms are available, after payment of per day hostel room charges fixed by the institute as per hostel rules policy of NID MP.

(ii) In case students pursue a self-sponsored project and would like to execute the entire project while staying on the NID MP campus, such students must pay the entire semester hostel fee at the beginning of the semester.

(iii) Infrastructure cost is also applicable on students who do client sponsored projects as stated in section 1.2.1 and 1.2.3 if they prefer to write a graduation project document in NID MP or prefer to develop final design or prototype in NID MP studio or workshop.

1.11 Dispute Redressal

In case of a conflict of opinion or dispute with the sponsor client/ organization, the student may need to consult his/her guide or the respective Discipline Coordinator for effective redressal of the problem, or the client may contact the student's guide in case of any concern.

2. The Graduation Project Documentation

2.1 Structure of the document

The final graduation document is a lens through which the student's project will be reviewed by the guide(s), jury panel, and industry members. Therefore, it is imperative that the student adheres to the highest standards of quality while writing the final graduation document. The final graduation report shall ideally comprise 8,000–12,000 words of original writing. The document should be written in the third person narrative (Refer to appendix no. 4.3). The structure of the final graduation document should ideally reflect the research and design process followed which varies across and within disciplines depending on the project. A broad and generic structure for a final graduation document would read like this:

2.1.1 Cover Page

The cover page of the final graduation project document should have the following information for easy retrieval (please refer to appendix no. 4.3):

(i) Graduation Project - This should be written clearly on the cover in upper case letters.

(ii) Title of the Project- The title must be clear and concise and should reflect the nature of the project. It may be supported by a subtitle that will make it more explanatory. The title of the document should reflect the theme of the project as it makes for a lead-into the content. The title will also be indexed in the library catalog, and once archived, it is through this title that the graduation project will be referred to by peers, faculty, and research scholars. Hence, the student may wish to be creative but must ensure that the title does not confuse the reader or cause ambiguity.

For example, 'Visible- Invisible' may be an interesting and creative title from a student's point of view, but ambiguous for a reader. Chances are that someone coming across such a title in the online library catalog will never be able to figure out what the project is all about. Therefore, the student must add a subtitle that reflects the nature of the project. Hence, in this case, the title could be changed to 'Visible-Invisible: Designing Furnishings for an Export House.'

(iii) Volume Number - For example, Vol 1 of 2, Vol 2 of 3. This information is not required if the documentation has a single volume.

(iv) Sponsor's Name – The student must ensure that the sponsor's name is exactly as mentioned in the registration form. In case the sponsor is a conglomerate with subsidiary companies, students must mention the correct details about which sub-company sponsored the project. For example, HCL Healthcare or HCL Infosystems Ltd.

(v) Student's Name – First name, surname. Please note that the name on the cover page should match the name entered on the registration form. For example, Kannan S. Balasubramaniam may not be abbreviated to K. Balasubramaniam or K. S. Balasubramaniam.

(vi) Programme – Bachelor of Design (B. Des.)

(vii) Name of the Faculty Guide and Co-guide– First name, Surname. Kindly spell correctly and include appropriate honorifics if any, before the names, like Dr. /Prof. with the express permission of the guide(s).

(viii) Year – Mention the year in which the document will be submitted. Institute Name: National Institute of Design, Madhya Pradesh.

(ix) Institute name and logo – National Institute of Design, Madhya Pradesh.

After the cover page the document should have the following in the prescribed flow of contents:

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त
Information given under RTI Act

2.1.2: Graduation Project completion certificate.

Graduation Project completion certificate certified by the employer assures that the student (under section 1.2.1, 1.2.2, 1.2.3) has successfully completed the graduation project for a required duration.

A self-sponsored graduation project category student should submit the Graduation Project completion certificate signed by the main guide and co guide (if applicable).

Note 1: It is mandatory for each student to submit the graduation project completion certificate.

Note 2: The certificate for a duration of 4 to 5 months is acceptable if this period excludes documentation time.

Note 3: If the student, after consultation with the guide, decides to complete the documentation at the workplace of the employer, then the certificate mentioning 6 months duration will be accepted.

2.1.3 Jury Certification Sheet/Approval

The right page in the first volume of the project must have the Jury Certification Sheet/Approval Sheet (Refer to appendix no. 4.4). The information in the certificate should be filled in thus: The Evaluation Jury recommends (name of the student) for the Degree of the National Institute of Design herewith for the project (title of the graduation project).

2.1.4 Copyright Page

A copyright notice is a short line of text that lets the public know that your work is protected by copyright law and is not to be copied. This page should have the originality and copyright statement (Refer to appendix no. 4.5) be signed and inserted immediately after the Approval Sheet.

2.1.5 Abstract

An abstract is a short summary of the graduation project. The abstract concisely reports the aims, methodology, outcomes, and conclusion of the project. The abstract provides the readers know exactly what the project is about. It should be written in not more than 1000 words.

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त
Information given under RTI Act

2.1.6 Acknowledgment

(i) The acknowledgment section of the graduation project document recognizes and thanks those who supported you during your project. It should be written on not more than one side of the A4 page. Acknowledgment can be but is not limited to individuals, institutions, or organizations.

(ii) Although the student's work will not be evaluated based on the acknowledgments, it is still an essential section of the graduation project document. This is because it can have a positive (or negative for that matter) influence on the perception of the reader before they even reach the main body of the document. Acknowledgments will typically fall into one of two categories – professional and or personal.

(iii) Within these categories, who you thank will ultimately be your decision. However, it's imperative that you pay special attention to the 'professional' group. This is because not thanking someone who has played an essential role in the graduation project, whether intentional or accidental, will often be seen as dismissing their efforts. Not only would this be unfair if they genuinely helped you, but from a certain political aspect, it could also jeopardize any opportunities for future collaborations.

(a) Professional Acknowledgements: This may include, but is not limited to: Funding bodies/sponsorship providers/ Client Guide, Co- Guide Faculty Members Project Team Studio/ lab assistants Research participants Colleagues Proofreaders Participants of the study, etc.

(b) Personal Acknowledgements: This may include, but is not limited to: Key family members and friends. Individuals who inspired you or directly influenced your academic journey, anyone else who has provided personal support that you would like to mention.

2.1.7 Table of Contents

The table of contents is where you list the chapters and major sections of the chapters of the graduation project. The list of contents must have page numbers of all chapters and major sections of the chapters. The table of contents also includes an appendix, glossary, and bibliography. The document must be paginated correctly.

(i) Chapter 1: Introduction

A project introduction explains what a project is about and how the graduation project document is structured. It should include key details about the project that gives the reader enough information to understand the purpose and scope of the project, the importance of the study, the background of the project, guiding questions; design brief, company profile, the area/setting of the project/research; user profile, methodology of the project, design outcomes, limitations, and possibilities and major learnings.

(ii) Chapter 2: Client Information and Design Brief

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त
Information given under RTI Act

(iii) Chapter 3: Literature Review

(a) A literature review is a search and evaluation of the available literature in your given subject or chosen topic area. It documents the state of the art with respect to the subject or topic you are writing about. The study informs you about the published knowledge around your subject of inquiry that helps you to build an understanding of your project. The literary sources could be of varied nature from films, podcasts, articles, conference proceedings, journal papers, academic dissertations etc. A literature review has four main objectives:

- It surveys the literature in your chosen area of study.
- It synthesizes the information in that literature into a summary.
- It critically analyses the information gathered by identifying gaps in current knowledge; by showing limitations of theories and points of view; and by formulating areas for further research and reviewing areas of controversy
- It presents the literature in an organized way.

(b) A literature review shows your readers that you have an in-depth grasp of your subject and that you understand where your own research/ design fits into and adds to an existing body of agreed knowledge.

(c) A literature review demonstrates a familiarity with a body of knowledge and establishes the credibility of your work; summarizes prior research and says how your project is linked to it; integrates and summarizes what is known about a subject; demonstrates that you have learned from others and that your research is a starting point for new ideas.

(iv) Chapter 4: Industry /& Market Analysis

(a) The chapter includes a description of the profile of the organization you are working with, product segment, target group, company clients, and market it caters to. Industry analysis facilitates a company's understanding of its position relative to other companies that produce similar products or services. Understanding the forces at work in the overall industry is important to design business and market- relevant designs.

(b) The chapter may also include the study of consumer psychology, other competitive industries, and the market w.r.t to the organization you are working. A market research study blends consumer behavior and economic trends to confirm and inform your contextual understanding of the project.

(v) Chapter 5: User/ Consumer/another stakeholder Research

User/consumer research, or “design research,” as it’s sometimes called, covers a wide range of methods. User research should inspire your design, help to evaluate your solutions, and to measure your design impact. The chapter on user research should document how the methods are used and modified to suit the context, sampling, site selection criteria, and characteristics, data collection and analysis process, synthesis of data, and insights.

(vi) Chapter 6: Design Process

This chapter includes any:

- (a) Redefinition of design brief (if required), design criteria.
- (b) Ideation tools and methods, mockup and prototyping, testing method, and results.
- (c) Design Development – This will focus on initial design explorations, building mock-ups design alternatives, final design explorations, and prototyping.
- (d) Design Outcome- Final design outcome details
- (e) Design Validation – This phase includes initial testing of prototyping and mock-ups.
- (f) Consolidation –This stage involves refinement/creation of the final design, developing specifications, and industry testing Deliverables – Prototypes, scale models, film/animation, or any other deliverables in tangible form as per the requirements of the discipline.

(vii) Chapter 5: Conclusion

This text will describe the student’s learning from the project and various reflections on the project. The conclusion paragraph should restate your project, summarize the key supporting ideas you discussed throughout the work, and offer your final impression of the central idea. This final summation should also contain the moral of your story or a revelation of a deeper truth. A good conclusion will wrap up your final thoughts and main points, combining all pertinent information with an emotional appeal for an ending statement that resonates with your readers.

(viii) Appendix

Any subsidiary matter of relevance may be put in the appendix. An appendix is a section at the end of a project that contains supplementary information. An appendix may contain figures, tables, raw data, and other additional information that supports the arguments of your project but does not belong in the main body. Following documents must be submitted as an appendix in the graduation project document:

- (a) Original project proposal should also be submitted in the appendix section.
- (b) Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA): A non-disclosure agreement is a legal contract or part of a contract between at least two parties that outlines confidential material, knowledge, or information that the parties wish to share with one another for certain purposes but wish to restrict access to. In case the student has signed an NDA for his/her project, a copy of the NDA is to be inserted in the document along with its mention. NDA should be signed in discussion with the mentor.

The agreement between the student and the organization permits the students to present the graduation project work in front of the jury organized by the institute for evaluation. The document and the presentation will be recorded for academic purposes only.
- (c) Budget sheet needs to be submitted along with the final graduation project document with an indication of the overall cost of the project as stated in section 1.9 as an appendix.
- (d) Plagiarism Report - A plagiarism report of the graduation project document should be submitted by the student in the Appendix section (Point No. (viii) (d) of 2.1.7) with a threshold of up to 20%.

(ix) References

A reference list contains only sources you have cited in-text in the graduation project document. The whole document should be cited using the latest version of the American Psychological Association (APA) and the same style should be used for citations in the body text. It is recommended to arrange the references wisely in alphabetical order.

2.2 The Visual Language of the document

The graduation project document should be designed using the following guidelines in mind:

(i) Font and Size: The font Helvetica and D-Din-Pro must be used for the cover page and the jury certification sheet. The cover template and jury certificate available on the intranet are to be mandatorily used without modification in typeface and format. If the cover and jury certificate is found to be varying in visual style, the student will be asked to reprint them in the right visual style. A sample of the cover page and the jury certification sheet is available on the intranet.

(ii) Acceptable sizes in which the document must be submitted:

(a) A4 portrait (210mm x 297mm), A4 landscape (297mm x 210mm), A4 square (210mm x 210mm) A3 portrait (297mm x 420mm), A3 landscape (420mm x 297mm), A3 square (297mm x 297mm).

(b) All technical drawings or prints should be appended to the document or as a separate volume if required. In case the final graduation project document covers copious data, it is always better to divide the document into two or three volumes instead of submitting a single cumbersome document. It is preferable to have one volume with double-sided pagination. It is important to note that the contents will determine which of the above size and orientation best suit a student's documentation.

(iii) Margins: It is essential to maintain a 1-inch or 2.5-cm margin on the left-hand side, so that there is adequate space for binding. Margins from the top, right and bottom sides should not be less than 1.5cm.

(iv) Typography: For higher legibility and readability, it is recommended to use fonts such as Helvetica, Calibri, and Garamond. It is also essential to vary the size, weight and style of fonts used for different elements of the text. For example, the font size, style, and weight used for headings, sub-headings, body text, quoted passages inserted into the main text, text as captions for images or tables, footnotes, etc. should vary to delineate hierarchy or emphasis as required.

(v) Images: Images sourced or photographed for the document should ideally have a resolution of no less than 300dpi. The TIFF format is preferred. Images placed in the document should be sized appropriately so that they are readable. Each image/table/illustration/figure needs to be numbered and captioned. The source of images that do not belong to the author and have been obtained from sources such as the Internet, books, journals, or photographers, etc. need to be acknowledged in the document.

(vi) Layout: Sample layouts will be placed on the intranet for reference.

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त
Information given under RTI Act

(vii) Digital Tools: Software applications such as InDesign, Photoshop, and Illustrator are used extensively during documentation. The Institute can also facilitate setup group demonstrations of the software by an expert if required. Microsoft PowerPoint or Microsoft Word should not be used for creating layouts.

(viii) Printing: 80–120-gsm matt paper for the inside pages; 130-gsm uncoated paper for the jury certification sheet; and 230/250-gsm matt art card for the title/cover page is recommended. The front and back covers need to be laminated. Double-sided printing is mandatory to reduce the thickness and weight of the final document.

(ix) Binding: Spiral binding of the document is mandatory. However, students may choose wire binding or spiral (plastic) binding. Spiral binding is preferred as pages can be added and removed if needed post jury recommendations.

2.3 Research Ethics

(i) Ethics has a major role to play in the research or background study conducted for a graduation project. Honesty and integrity of the research conducted is a decisive factor in determining the relevance of the graduation project. Students must avoid fabricating data and misrepresenting facts or findings. Some instances of unethical practices include:

- (a) Misleading people with false information about the project Concealing from people the actual reason for the investigation into a particular topic whilst seeking their help/advice/cooperation.
- (b) Using contacts to gain confidential information.
- (c) Betraying people's confidence or trust and encroaching on people's privacy without their consent and causing stress or anxiety to others through one's behavior during the investigation.

(ii) While documenting the final graduation project document, the student must avoid plagiarism of any kind. Examples of plagiarism are:

- (a) The student is trying to pass off another person's ideas and words as his/her own, by using them without acknowledgment.
- (b) The student does not acknowledge the help and cooperation of other people who work with him/her or endorse those persons who gave the student permission to use their work. The student needs to acknowledge this in the document clearly. The student could use footnotes/endnotes to do this, besides putting the names of those individuals in the acknowledgments section.
- (c) Quoting text/passages from a book, journal paper, newspaper, report, website, or any other source and not acknowledging and referencing the source directly in the text or by means of footnotes/ endnotes.
- (d) Not giving credit to photographs or illustrations. Images must be cited as dictated by the style guide adopted for the document.

(iii) Plagiarism will lead to the following disciplinary action:

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त
Information given under RTI Act

- (a) The student may be asked to rewrite his/her document with all instances of plagiarism removed.
- (b) In severe cases of plagiarism, where the student has copied existing work and submitted it as his/her own, he/ she will be expelled from the Institute.

2.4 Submission of the Graduation Project document

(i) Students should submit their final graduation project document by the last day of 'Pre Jury graduation Project Submission' given in Table 4.1. If the student is not able to submit the graduation project document within the stipulated time duration as stated in appendix 4.1 (pre jury graduation project submission), he / she will get a maximum of five weeks more to make the submission of the document. However, a fine will be applicable on such students on a weekly basis as stated in Appendix 4.7

(ii) In case a student submits the graduation project document later than the date prescribed with the late fee, he/ she shall not be allowed to appear for the jury. Consequently, the student shall not be awarded a degree in that year's convocation and his/ her case will be carried forward to the subsequent year. For such students, weekly rates of late fee shall be calculated till the week of submission of the project document.

(iii) The student is expected to submit two hard copies of his/her final graduation project document i.e One to the Project Guide and other to the Academics Office. The Project Guide shall evaluate the project report as per provisions given in the section 3.5 and forward to the Academics Office within one week of its receipt. One of the copies must be sent by the Academic Office to the library after the student successfully clears the final graduation project jury, while the other copy shall be returned to the student. If the project is an industry-sponsored one, then the student is obligated to send a copy of the document to the sponsor/client. As part of the final submission, a student must also submit a digital copy of the document in Pdf format to the guide and the library. If the outcome of the project is in the form of a film, the student is expected to submit the film in a soft copy as a record for the library and the guide.

(iv) For instance, in Film and Video Communication & Animation Film Design the student is expected to submit a DVD of his/her film along with the final graduation project document to the Academic Office, after getting the technical quality of the film checked and approved by Film & Video Lab/Animation Lab. Likewise, apart from the written document, a submission may include one or more of the following: a set of technical drawings, a set of samples (in case of textiles), an audio/video cassette, a prototype built to scale, and so on. For specific submission of samples, films, videos, and mock-ups, the students must consult their respective guides and Discipline Coordinators.

(v) A student is eligible to appear before the final graduation project jury only after he/she submits two hard copies of the graduation project document to the Academics Office. Students are also expected to fill a graduation project submission form (refer appendix no. 4.6). The final date for submitting all the required documents/reports is the date of submission with late fee, as given in Appendix 4.1, for the student to be eligible for Convocation in the same calendar year. However, submission before this date only ensures a jury date. The Convocation and awarding of the final degree in the same year are subject to the outcome of the evaluation and the student's ability to complete the follow-ups before the specified date.

2.5 Extension of the Graduation Project

An extension for submission is not allowed, except in those cases where the student cannot complete the project due to a serious illness or any other unavoidable circumstances such as a family member's sudden demise, or an inexplicable conflict of interest with the sponsor; in which case, the student must submit a written request for an extension to the Activity Chairperson (E&T), through his/her guide. The student will need to justify the duration of extension required through his/her guide. The Activity Chairperson (E&T) will use his/her discretion to grant the permission based on whether he/she is convinced of the need and genuineness of the reason. The maximum extension can be requested is up to 1 semester; provided the total duration, including the extension, does not exceed 1 academic year.

2.6 Re- Registration

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त
Information given under RTI Act

In case a student fails to submit the project within the stipulated time frame, the Institute will not send the project for evaluation by the jury. The student will have one more opportunity to complete the graduation project, subject to the recommendations of the faculty guide for the first project and the respective Discipline Lead. If the first faculty guide, Discipline Lead, and the Activity Chairperson (E&T), disapprove of the attitude and initiative reflected in the first attempt, no further attempt will be granted. If this is the case, he/she will be issued a Course Completion Certificate, which will indicate the total time spent at the Institute, the courses studied, and their duration. If the student fails to submit the project report on time, even after the second attempt, he/she will be asked to discontinue the Professional Education Program. Registering for a fresh project would involve re- registration charges of Rs. 5,000, an amount that is periodically revised.

2.7 Rights Over Student's Design Young Designers (to be renamed before 1st convocation)

(i) The Young Designers, an annual publication from NID MP documents a short summary of the graduation projects executed every year. This publication is a systematic documentation of graduation projects completed by students during a particular academic year and clearly enlists details about the sponsors of each of these graduation projects. Every year NID MP publishes the Young Designers – a publication that showcases the graduation projects of all graduating students. The library of NID MP will store this extensive collection of final graduation project documents pursued under various disciplines over the years for record keeping and reference for future design students.

(ii) It is compulsory for all students to submit necessary information pertaining to their graduation project for the formulation of the Young Designer Document and an A1 size poster (for display during convocation). The following content is to be submitted in the digital format:

(a) The student's personal email ID (not his/her NID MP email ID)

(b) A synopsis (of no more than 300 words) of the project along with five to seven keywords that best describe their individual projects. The synopsis must be written in the third person and must comprise 3 elements – project aim/design brief (original and redesigned brief); research and design process in brief and unique design features/attributes that make the final concept/product stand apart from the ordinary.

(c) Five high-resolution images of the product and supporting sketches should be submitted. It is important to note that the first image will be the primary image, and all or some of the images will be secondary images in the actual Young Designers publication.

(d) Two high-resolution photographic portrait photographs of the student. Sunglasses, closed eyes, or experimental facial expressions will not be acceptable in the portrait.

2.8 Rights Over Student's Design

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदत्त
Information given under RTI Act

(i) In case a client sponsors the project, the sponsoring organization will own the rights of the design outcome/product. NID MP, along with the student-designer and the sponsor organization will jointly own the copyright of the final graduation project. The student and NID MP shall have the right to use the graduation project work for academic promotions.

(ii) NID MP will hold the right to publish the student's final graduation project work for the promotion of academic activities of the Institute. In case the sponsor does not commercially develop the sponsored work within two years of submitting the final graduation project document (unless an extension is sought in specific cases), the design rights will automatically revert to NID MP and the student.

(iii) In all his/her dealings with the sponsor, the student must ensure that he/she does not violate the sponsor's and NID MP's intellectual property rights as per the IPR policy guidelines of the Govt. of India in force at that time. The Institute will take no responsibility in case a student is involved in the infringement of the rights of the sponsoring agency.

(iv) In case the design solution presented for the graduation project is not sponsored by any client, and it presents scope for further development or implementation, or the possibility of commercial exploration, the Institute in consultation with the student may follow the necessary steps to achieve these ends. In such cases, the IPR will rest with the Institute, while royalty will be shared.

3 The Graduation Project Jury

3.1 Jury Date

The Academic Office, in consultation with the student's Guide, schedules the jury for the students. Instead of individual student juries throughout the year, the Institute organizes group juries in a single day. Students will get specific time slots for the group juries. If the given time slot is not suited to the student, he/she will be given the next time slot for the jury. In group juries, up to 4 juries of the same discipline can be organized on the same day. With the increase in student number, group juries are more effective in terms of time management, human resource planning. Digital document/printed document needs to be circulated one month in advance to the jury panel before the final jury date. For projects with NDA, dedicated space should be provided in the NID campus where a jury panel can review the student's document in person.

3.2 Jury Presentation

There are various approaches/methods by which graduation projects are required to be presented before the final graduation project evaluation jury. A student should therefore discuss with his/her guide the type and format of documentation accepted and the approaches/methods through which the findings of the project are to be presented. It is advisable for the student to display all the exploratory sheets, sketchbooks/diaries, mock-ups, prototypes, models, installation, film, and other supplementary material (including literature) he/she may have made during the project.

3.3 Jury Panel

The jury panel shall consist of:

- (i) Jury Chairperson – He/she should be a Faculty from NID MP. He/she should have teaching experience of more than 10 years, can oversee proper adherence to jury procedure, and will chair all juries for that specific group for that specific date. The jury chairperson should not be from the same discipline of NID MP to which the student belongs.
- (ii) Guide – The student's faculty guide at NID MP. In the absence of the guide, co-guide shall be the part of the jury panel.
- (iii) External Expert – One external expert (from the industry/ an independent designer/ an academician) recommended by AC (E&T).

3.4 Jury Process

(i) The jury must begin by introducing the student to all members on the panel post in which the the student is requested to leave the room. The guide(s) discusses the student's project (in his/her absence) and the way he/she worked on various stages of the graduation project. Thereafter, the student is invited back to present to the panel various aspects of his/her project. The student is allotted 40 minutes for the jury presentation. The panel will cross-question the student during or after his/her presentation, based on which an internal panel discussion, in the student's absence, may ensue for around 10-15 minutes.

(ii) Post discussion, the jury's feedback is communicated to the student directly by the entire panel along with the necessary follow-ups, if any.

(iii) The final graduation project document is circulated among the jury panel members in advance so that they are familiar with the project and can formulate questions/points pre-discussion. Hence, it is recommended that during the jury, the student must not repeat the same facts that have already been stated in his/her final graduation project documentation. The student may talk about the process and experiential aspects instead.

(iv) During the student's absence from the jury, the panel deliberates on the worthiness of the work presented and the possibility of awarding the final degree to the student.

3.5 Assessment Criteria

Graduation project assessment will be carried out at two levels:

(i) By the project guide in consultation with the representative of the sponsored organization: In case of a sponsored project, internal evaluation of the project will be jointly carried out by representatives of the sponsor organization and the project guide. The weightage of this evaluation is 60% as per the credit evaluation policy of NID MP. The parameters of evaluation, as given in the policy are as follows:

S.No.	Evaluation Parameters	Percentage
1.	Research and comprehension	15%
2.	Design Process	15%
3.	Exploration and Visualization	10%
4.	Originality and Innovation	15%
5.	Quality of output and documentation	15%
6.	Project Management	10%
7.	Values, ethics, and concerns	10%
8.	Interaction and participation	10%

सूचना अधिकार अधिनियम के तहत प्रदान
Information given under RTI Act

(ii) In case of a self-sponsored project, the internal evaluation will be carried out by the guide and a nominee of Activity Chairperson (Education & Training). The weightage of this evaluation is 60% as per the credit evaluation policy of NID MP. The parameters of evaluation to be followed as per the same policy.

(iii) The internal evaluation of the project must be completed before the jury. In both the above cases, the project guide will submit the evaluation report to the Academics Office within one week.

(iv) Jury at NID MP: Jury at NID MP shall be conducted by a jury panel as stated in section 3.3. The jury carries 40% weightage of the total evaluation, as per the prevailing credit and evaluation policy of the institute. The parameters of jury evaluation, as given in the policy are as follows: -

S.No.	Criterion	Weightage
1.	Product	40%
2.	Process	30%
3.	Presentation	20%
4.	Attitude	10%

3.6 Jury Outcome

(i) There may be three possible outcomes of the jury:

(a) The student passes the viva, in which case the jury recommends that he/she be awarded the NID MP degree without any modifications to the submitted manuscript or addition to the work conducted, provided he has also cleared the internal evaluation. All panel members, except the jury chairperson will sign both copies of the final graduation project document if the project is complete in all respects.

(b) The student passes the viva partially with follow ups, in such situations, two weeks of buffer time is awarded to the student to complete the follow-up and submit the revised project document to the guide and the Academic office of NID MP. In case the student is unable to complete the work as asked in the follow-up, the convocation of such a student will be postponed to the next academic year, after the submission of the revised document to the guide and Academic office of NID MP.

(c) If the work is not meritorious enough (in quality or quantity of original work) to be awarded the NID MP degree, the student is asked to redo the graduation project. This involves re-registration with a new project.

(ii) The Academic Office will send documents to the jury panel members for their signatures once the student satisfactorily completes corrections assigned to him/her. The student is required to submit the No Dues form, duly signed by all concerned to the Academic Office, were, upon verification, the student will be given one copy of his/her final graduation project document. The other copy will be retained and archived in the library.

3.7 Post Jury

Jury members are to sign on the Project Report to certify their perusal of the project. The student will then submit the documents to the Academic Office. If any follow-up of the project is required, the student will submit the project document to the Academic Office after completion of follow-up and as certified so by the project guide. Before the document is sent for the signature of the chairperson of the jury, the guide should add remarks in the document stating the details of the time involved in completion of the project. The remarks could be as follows:

'This project with a maximum provision of 24 weeks in the curriculum was completed in weeks.'

'This project with a maximum provision of 24 weeks in the curriculum was completed inweeks and a further follow-up of weeks after the jury.'

3.8 Convocation

NID MP's Annual Convocation is held in December every year. This important occasion is marked by week-long events which include public participation. An eminent person is invited to deliver the prestigious Convocation lecture. Degree certificates with the final marksheet will be awarded to the graduating students.

4.2. Writing Style

Here are three examples, the first note is written using the first-person pronouns, while the second and third ones use third person pronouns:

First Person: First-person pronouns: I, me, my, mine, we, us, our, ours Second person pronouns: you, your, yours Third-person pronouns: he, she, it, him, her, his, hers, its, they, them, their, theirs. I was expected to conduct a study of various looms used to weave this cloth. I began to explore the cultural and symbolic significance these looms held in the crafts people's lives, and I found it extremely interesting. I had to ensure that I noted down the craft people's responses in detail; I felt it was my responsibility to do so. The other members in my group were given other tasks; we were documenting the same weaving tradition after all! I enjoyed speaking to the families of craftspeople whose livelihood was dependent on weaving this cloth. I spoke to Asha and Nisha. Asha complained about the salary being less. Nisha told me, "I studied till only the 10th standard and took to weaving soon after." I was touched and angered at the same time by the poverty in the crafts people's lives and asked myself, "What on earth has happened to all the government schemes?" I would eventually start examining the raw materials used in weaving the cloth – this too was an important section of our study, and I did not want to ignore it.

Second Person: The student was expected to conduct a study on various looms used for weaving this cloth. She began to explore the cultural and symbolic significance these looms held in the crafts people's lives. It was important that she accurately noted down the craft people's responses, as these were crucial to the findings of her study. These craftspeople led extremely bleak lives. The meagre income they earned through weaving was not enough to sustain their families. The student interacted with Asha and Nisha, the only women from the locality who had taken up weaving as a profession. While Asha complained about how wages for female weavers were lower than the ones for their male counterparts, Nisha had to discontinue her education and take up weaving to support her family. It was found that though government schemes were in place, their implementation was extremely skewed. For the next stage of her study, the student examined the raw materials used for weaving this cloth.

Third Person: This final degree document is a meticulous study on various looms used for weaving this cloth. The document begins by exploring the cultural and symbolic significance these looms held in the crafts people's lives. The accurate description of the craftspeople is indeed a crucial input in the document. The meager income they earned through weaving was not enough to sustain their families. This document records the experiences of Asha and Nisha – the only women in the locality who had taken up weaving as a profession. While Asha complained about how wages for female weavers were lower than their male counterparts, Nisha had to discontinue her education and take up weaving to support her family. It was found that though government schemes were in place, their implementation was extremely skewed. The next section of the document focuses on the raw materials used for weaving this cloth.

A meeting was held on 29th Nov in presence of Prashanti & Karanik to discuss and review the provisional registration form designed by them. Feedback was given and modifications are incorporated as suggested in (C/369 - C/372). The form is ready to make it available online for students.

(An Institute of National Importance under DPIIT, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Govt of India)

1. As per the discussion with Ms. Shikha Aggarwal, the students are not being offered a stipend at par of current norms i.e., Rs. 25000/-.
2. It has been observed that there is a misinterpretation w.r.t the para 2.2: Industrial training stipend and para 2.3: Graduation project stipend with the companies.
3. In view of the above, w.r.t the stipend of Sponsorship Guidelines of NIDMP, the following lines as per the clause para 8 (a) and (b) may be removed:
 - i. "Students should be aware that a stipend relates to the funds made available for the specific purpose and time of the project alone and must not be confused with a 'salary' (to be deleted).
 - ii. The stipend should be at par with the prevalent practices in the industry and payable for 6 months duration of the project. (To be deleted)
 - iii. applicable also in the case of sponsored projects abroad." (To be deleted)

As per the discussion with the chairman the above line may not required to be included in the Sponsorship manual to avoid any misinterpretation w.r.t the above lines. Hence, it is proposed to remove the above lines from Clause no. 8 (a) and (b). (Refer highlights placed at C/375)

Also, it is observed that the following clause regarding minimum stipend may be included in the Sponsorship Manual so that student may get stipend of at least at par of current norms i.e., Rs.25000/- (which is already available in Graduation Project Manual circulated to the student) Clause no. 8 (b), i.e.:

"The current norm for stipend offered to final year degree students sponsored by a client outside NID MP, is a minimum of Rs 25,000 per month, for a maximum of 6 months (to be added)."

The above line is proposed to be included in the Sponsorship Manual also.

Submitted for kind perusal & approval of the above. If approved the revised Sponsorship Manual will be circulated with incorporation of the above changes.

As per the discussion held in the meeting on 18/09/2023 regarding Graduation Project Jury, academics section has sent mail along with excel to all Project guides to submit the nomination of external expert on 19/08/2023.

In this regard, The Academic Office has shared a Sheet containing the details of students who have submitted their graduation projects, along with the respective project domains as indicated by their project guides for inputs regarding the External Expert nominations, Chairperson nomination (with an eligible list of faculty) and Tentative dates for jury for particular students as per domains specified.

As per the Graduation project policy, Subsequently to nominations from the project guide of external experts, who could be from the industry, an independent designer, or academicians, will be recommended from by the AC (Education).

In view of the above & regarding the current status of nominations, It is observed that as of today, very few nominations to date has been received so far despite sending multiple reminders. Refer attached sheet below for your reference :

GP Jury Schedule.xlsx

It is to emphasize that the delayed submission of nominations has the potential to disrupt the entire process. Furthermore, numerous students have already made travel arrangements in accordance with the revised Jury dates which is Oct 02, 2023 to Oct 20, 2023. Any further delays in the process could result in financial losses for these students, who may need to adjust their bookings, and could also impose a financial burden on the institution due to last-minute increases in guest expert travel expenses.

Note # 48

Please find attached the file titled Rev 3. GP Jury Schedule 04.10.2023, which includes a comprehensive mapping of Chairpersons and external experts for the GP Jury.

The GP Jury Schedule has already been shared with all the concerned, duly approved by Ac (E), on 27.09.2023 and the revised on 04.10.2023. However the points of DL ID as mentioned below was received:

"As per the approved policy: Graduation Project Manual Section 3 (3.1), it states that "The Academic Office, in consultation with the Student's Guide, schedules the jury for the students."

In addition to the trailing mail,

The revised Jury Schedule shared with the DLs (& not shared with the Guides) has following concerns

- i) It does not accommodate the availability of the externals of the proposed dates which was shared initially by all guides.
- ii) It does not have the names of the externals (Proposed initially) by the guides for different student project domains.

The above two points should be considered before finalizing the jury schedule."

In this regard the comments of competent authority is mentioned below:

"Dear Mr. Rahul,

I would like to address the concerns you raised regarding the proposed Jury schedule, which we discussed during our consultation on September 27, 2023, in my office, where you were representing the ID team in the capacity of DLID.

Firstly, I'd like to clarify that the concerns mentioned in points i) and ii) appear to be misplaced. It is important to emphasize that ensuring the availability of external experts, in consultation with the guides, falls within your responsibilities based on the decision taken on September 27, 2023.

Furthermore, in a subsequent meeting held on October 3, 2023, in the conference room, with the participation of other discipline leads and jury guides, these concerns were thoroughly discussed and clarified. It was unanimously agreed that the guides would engage with external experts to secure their commitment to the provided schedule. In the event that this proves unfeasible, any such cases will be identified separately, and a decision will be made to consider empaneling new external experts who can align their availability with the approved schedule.

I would like to reiterate that the Chairpersons have been finalized based on the confirmation of the schedule by the Discipline Leads during our meeting on September 27, 2023, in my office. Importantly, they have already confirmed their availability for the scheduled dates.

Best regards,

Prof. Dhiraj"
